

Micro-classroom format for State Grid teams

Overview

Microsoft Teams for Education has updated the grid view, allowing direct access to assignments and classwork. This feature is part of Microsoft 365 Roadmap ID 412934 and will be globally available from mid to late October 2024. No admin action is required for this. Class teams have unique permissions and features for teachers and students. As owners of the team, teachers assign work, share class content, start meetings, and control who can post in the team. Each class team is also linked to its own OneNote Class Notebook. The key lies in understanding its features such as video meetings, chat, and integrated applications, which can all be tailored to suit educational. Microsoft Teams for Education is a powerful communication app for schools that enhances collaboration and learning. As educators begin participating in Teams to communicate with colleagues and administrators, they'll simultaneously begin. Students and educators will be empowered by synchronous and asynchronous learning as well as interactive, multi-modal engagement designed to meet the needs of every student in every circumstance.
