

Rural solar power generation loans

Overview

The Rural Energy for America Program (REAP) offers federal grants and loans to help farmers and rural small business owners go solar, covering up to 50% of total project costs. Guaranteed loans may be accepted and compete on an on-going basis in accordance with 7 CFR 5001. Department of Agriculture announced sweeping changes to renewable energy funding this week, fundamentally reshaping access to federal solar incentives for rural America. The new rules eliminate USDA support for large solar farms on prime farmland and ban foreign-manufactured panels in all. Learn more about REAP, how rural businesses can go solar, and how Solar United Neighbors is helping make it happen. REAP isn't currently accepting grant applications. loan forgiveness programs to expand clean, affordable, and reliable energy. With the costs of photovoltaic cell panels and storage batteries falling dramatically in the last decade and renewable energy incentives. Our programs, authorized by the Agricultural Act of 2014, offer funding to complete energy audits, provide renewable energy development assistance, make energy efficiency improvements and install renewable energy systems.
