

Tesla Energy Storage Power Station System Purchase

Overview

[Tesla gets an order for energy storage systems totalling 15.3GWh] On 18 July, Tesla announced that it has entered into a purchase agreement with US-based sustainable energy company named Intersect Power. Tesla will supply Intersect Power with Megapack energy storage systems. Megapack is a powerful, integrated battery system that provides clean, reliable, cost-effective energy storage to help stabilize the grid and prevent outages. Tesla (TSLA) continues to make headlines—not just for its electric vehicles, robotaxis, and robotics, but for its fast-growing energy business, one of the few bright spots in its latest earnings report.
